Benefits of Hiring a Workplace Chaplain

Enterprise Chaplains

Providing Personal Support

While employees are expected to separate work from personal life, stress often has an adverse impact on their performance. A chaplain is an impartial listener who brings a compassionate heart and a discerning ear to get them back on track.

Offering Resources

Chaplains are confidential allies with whom employees voluntarily engage. When difficult life situations arise, they are trusted and equipped to connect employees with specialized community and company resources.

Improving Company Culture & Morale

Chaplains assist in improving professional relationships, resolving conflicts through neutral listening, encouraging both personal and professional growth, and aiding in ways to help employees feel “heard” and engaged at work.

Nurturing Whole-person Wellness

Employees have a trusted, objective friend and confidant who is a dependable resource for them when they face adversity. Helping people live well-balanced and happy lives provides the right culture for efficient productivity!

Improving Company Loyalty & Retention

A chaplain is a catalyst for healthy empathy and life-giving compassion in the workplace. Providing employees with a positive environment through non-judgmental and confidential support for their personal lives helps them THRIVE in their jobs, as well as deepens loyalty to the company.

Building the Company

Supporting employees through a regular chaplaincy program gives a sense of renewed purpose, increases productivity, deepens their company commitment, creates a positive work environment and ultimately helps business soar!
